

SATURDAY 14th OCTOBER 2017

CONFERENCE FEE: £10

OPENING UP THE PAST

School of Education, University of Birmingham, Edgbaston, Birmingham, B15 2TT

We are delighted to have the expertise of Michael Riley and Ben Walsh as keynote speakers, together with an exciting range of workshops. Our conference will open up the past by exploring the breadth of our history and diverse heritage at a time when we need, more than ever, to appreciate the significance of these key themes. Alongside our keynote presentations our workshops will provide insights into how we can uncover the past for children in engaging and creative ways.

Programme

9.30am Registration and Publisher/Provider Exhibition

10.00-11.30am Key note sessions followed by general discussion

Making school history more meaningful, diverse and engaging. Michael Riley, Director, Schools History Project. Michael will share some untold stories and teaching strategies which can be used to enhance history in your school.

Finding the immigrants in our medieval past. Ben Walsh, trainer, textbook author and examiner. Ben will look at the emerging evidence and how teachers at KS2 through to KS5 have tried to bring this evidence to history classrooms
